CANYON IS ALL SET FOR HOLIDAY TRADE

Excavation Has Started On New Postoffice

BASEMENT IS STARTED WITH STEAM SHOVEL

$65,000 Structure Will Be Completed in Canyon About the First of June Next Year.

CONTRACTOR HERE

Coke & Braden Is Doing Excavation; Guy Harp Is Representing The Government

Excavation was started on the new postoffice building yesterday morning.

The basement was staked out Tuesday evening, and a steam shovel moved to the lot by Coke & Braden, who hold the contract for the excavation.

Members of the contracting firm of Lundberg & Richter were here Friday to complete plans for starting the building. Mr. Richter is now located at Goose Creek where the firm is completing a postoffice. He will move to Canyon in a few days, bringing with him the foreman for the job. Mr. Richter will be superintendent during the construction of the building.

Postmaster Guy Harp was notified that the government would not have an inspector here until the basement was completed, and he was authorized to act for the government during the excavation.

A picture was made yesterday morning of a group of citizens as the steam-shovel was loading the first of the trucks. Mayor C. R. Burrow, W. A. Warren, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Postmaster Guy Harp were in the center of the group.

According to the contract the building will be completed about the first of June.

Mrs. L. G. Conner Pleased With New Postoffice Start

Mrs. L. G. Conner expressed great pleasure yesterday as excavation was started on the new $65,000 postoffice in Canyon.

L. G. Connor, founder of Canyon, was the first postmaster in Canyon, and Mrs. Conner handled the business while he was away from home. The first postoffice was in the Conner's home, a dugout located south of the present court house. Mail was dropped off here from the stage coach.

In securing the postoffice, citizens wished to adopt the name of "Conner" for the proposed town, but Mr. Conner objected, and the name "Canyon City" was agreed upon.

When the Conner family first came to the Plains, they received their mail from Quanah.

Hereford Favors Big Dam Proposal on Tierra Blanca

Ten Canyon Citizens Talk of Plan to Hereford Group Last Friday Afternoon

Ten Canyon citizens went to Hereford Friday afternoon to tell the citizens of that town the plans which had been made regarding the establishing of a dam on the Tierra Blanca. 25 citizens of Hereford heard the plan outlined by the Canyon group, and after discussion it was voted by the Hereford group to approve the plan, and to offer all the assistance possible to put the project over.

Those going from Canyon were W. A. Warren, Clyde Warwick, Dr. C. E. Donnell, Levi Cole, Clarence Beckman, C. H. Jarrett, G. G. Foster, S. H. Condron, G. B. Heath and Foster Dewey.

The Canyon group was introduced to the Hereford citizens by Clyde Warwick, after which the plan was outlined by Mr. Warren and Mr. Warwick, and the survey made on the dam was explained by Mr. Dewey.

Alex Thompson was in charge of the meeting and called upon a number of Hereford citizens. H. V. Hennen, George L. Muse, Mayor Chas. Paddock, J. E. Hill, and Adrian Odom approved the plan.

Mrs. L. R. Bradley and son, Egbert, owners of land in the Tierra Blanca valley stated they were willing to co-operate by selling although they were not anxious to dispose of their ranch lands. They advanced the idea that a series of small dams might be of great

Radio Station For Peace Officers Is Being Planned

County officials from the 26 Panhandle counties unanimously approved the proposal to establish a regional police broadcasting system, at a meeting of the group Monday afternoon at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo.

The efficiency and economy of such a station was undisputed as the proposal was discussed. The cost of the set and maintenance would be prorated to the different counties according to population.

The present system used in Amarillo for the city would be done away with and the new radio station would be a part of the statewide five-station system, including Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, and Austin.

The local officials are very enthusiastic about the proposal, as the expense of telephone tolls would be cut to a minimum, and the efficiency of the sheriff's department would be increased materially.

Attending the meeting from here were Judge Burney Slack, Commissioners W. E. Bennett and G. B. Heath, Sheriff Barnett and City Commissioner W. S. Amend.

Toby Waggoner had a relapse at the hospital in Roswell Friday, suffering from pleurisy. It was feared for several days that he might have an attack of pneumonia. Fortunately he escaped complications and is greatly improved.

Reports from the hospital yesterday indicated that Toby will be able to leave the hospital for home by Saturday.

Miss Ruth Burtz of Dalhart spent the holidays at the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Burtz.

Legislators Will Be Entertained at W. T. During p. m.

Members of the legislature are visitors in Canyon today and will be entertained on the campus for several hours.

HIGHWAY WORK WILL START MONDAY

Museum Basement Accepted Monday

Directors Order New Display Cases for Valuable Relics Given to the Society

Directors of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society were here Monday to meet with the contractor and architects to accept the basement which has been completed for an addition to Pioneer Hall. This construction was made possible by an appropriation of $25,000 made from the Centennial funds. The directors expressed the hope that the legislature would be able to provide funds to complete the building.

In checking over the expenditures for the basement it was found that only $3,700 remains from the appropriation for buying cases. The directors asked the Board of Control to buy all of the cases that this sum would provide. The new cases will likely be placed on the first floor of Pioneer Hall, while the present cases on this floor will be moved to the basement of the addition. It is estimated that fully $12,000 would be necessary to buy all of the cases that would be needed to properly display the relics which are now in the possession of the Society.

Those attending the meeting Monday were: W. H. Patrick of Clarendon, president of the Society; W. T. Coble of Amarillo; Col. R. P. Smyth of Plainview; Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo; J. D. Hamlin of Farwell; Harold Bugbee of Clarendon; Dr. J. A. Hill and L. F. Sheffy of Canyon.

The building was turned to the directors by C. S. Lambie, contractor, and M. O. Carder, architect.

Those taking Thanksgiving dinner at the W. I. Wester home were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas and son, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wester of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crowder of Clovis.

Miss Dolores Little has returned from her home in Borger where she spent the Thanksgiving holidays.

Light Snow Is Received With Little Moisture

North Plains Gets Fair Amount of Moisture on Tuesday; Mist Falling Again Today

A heavy mist fell in Canyon Tuesday during a greater part of the day, but not a sufficient amount to cause much moisture. Only .10 of an inch was registered here.

A light snow fell in the evening. The north Plains received much more snow, with a quarter inch of moisture having fallen in most sections.

The temperature dropped to 30 degrees above zero.

Yesterday was clear and cool, but mist is falling again this morning.

800 Compliance Papers Are Sent State Committee

Under the Agricultural Conservation Program of the Department of Agriculture, 800 compliance papers have been sent to the state board at College Station. After review by the state board the papers will be returned to the county committee which will then set the base acreage and the rate for each farm in the county.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch is hopeful that the work will be expediated so that the farmers may receive their checks under this program in March.

Underpass Work Is Slated To Start Next Monday Morning at Santa Fe Depot

WIDEN HIGHWAY

WPA Project to Widen No. 9 From Canyon to Amarillo Also to Start on Monday

According to information received yesterday the State Highway Department plans to get two Randall county projects underway next Monday.

The work order to start excavation on the underpass at the Santa Fe depot is expected at that time and this job will be started.

The other job to be started is to widen the pavement between Canyon and Amarillo. This project will be a WPA project under the supervision of the highway department. Caliche was placed on both sides of the concrete pavement two years ago under CWA, but plans for widening the pavement could not be started before this time.

The state has a large supply of topping which was taken up on Highway No. 5, southeast of Amarillo. It is planned to regrind this material and top the pavement all of the way between the two towns. Widening of this pavement has been under advisement for several years, owing to the fact that logs of the traffic every year show this highway to have the heaviest traffic of any in the Panhandle.

E. H. Gohmert, highway engineer, started work on the project Monday, securing additional right-of-way in places.

Sewell and Wesley Cox were home from Abilene to spend the Thanksgiving holidays at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cox. They are students in A. C. C. and lettered in football this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clark of Lakeview and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sheets of Spearman were at the H. W. Bagley home for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. J. B. Hensley visited her daughter, Mrs. N. E. Gass of Hereford last week.

Conservation Group Will Meet Tuesday For Organization

W. A. Warren, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has issued an invitation to counties of the Panhandle to send representatives to a meeting in Amarillo next Tuesday afternoon to discuss plans to organize a committee to handle water conservation and flood control projects. It is believed that such a committee could be of great service to Congressman Marvin Jones in handling such projects.

The meeting will be held at 2:00 o'clock, following the road meeting which is scheduled at noon Tuesday.

Salaries of All State Workers To Be Raised

Board of Control Will Make Recommendation to Legislature for Salary Hike

Salaries of all state employees will be increased by the next session of the legislature if the recommendations of the Board of Control are put into effect. All salaries were reduced 25 percent in 1932 by the legislature, but an increase was made in many salaries by the last session of the legislature.

According to the statement of Claude Teer, chairman of the Board of Control, recommendations are made that all salaries will be restored to the 1931 level. The Board makes recommendations to the legislature every two years when it meets. The printed report of the Board will be placed in the hands of the legislators during December.

Mr. Teer states that business and industry have restored reductions made in salaries and that the state should make like restorations. Living costs have increased and the state employees should receive the increase at this time, stated Mr. Teer.

The state has a deficit of more than 13 millions of dollars at this time, but the tax bill passed by the last session of the legislature has just begun to bring returns.

Mr. Gidden announced this morning that John Hunter would assist him in the business.

Mr. Green has been in the grocery business for several years, starting here as manager of the Furr store. In retiring, he states that he does not have plans made for the immediate future.

Misses Hazel and Mary Lee Cooper were at the parental C. O. Cooper home for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Cooper drove to Panhandle Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steen of Alanreed and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scofield and son spent the holidays visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fry Page arrived Monday to spend ten days here visiting with friends. She has been in Washington since leaving Canyon last year.

The die-hard Saturday Evening Post cannot forget that the national election is over and that President Roosevelt won an almost unanimous approval from the states of the union. During the campaign the Post used its columns, both editorial and magazine section, to berate everything that Roosevelt had done or proposed. Now it is jumping on to the President for not staying in Washington, attending to the nation's business while the hot shots of the Republican party turned loose the heavy artillery upon the acts of the administration. Too bad that the Post cannot realize that this is a democracy in which every citizen has his voice, and that every citizen has the right to hear a report from those in office as well as those who propose to oust those who are in office. It is probably true that the results of the election were not materially changed by the campaign of the President as he travelled over the nation making a personal report to the people. If it had not been for the tactics of such unfair publications as the Saturday Evening Post in distorting the issues of the campaign, the President would not have been forced to defend his position. Today the Post has failed to recognize the fact that it is in the same political class with the du Ponts, Liberty League and Coughlin, all of whom have admitted their miserable failure as political leaders and have retired in disgrace.

Congratulations are certainly due the Buffalo football team upon the wonderful success of this season. To go through a season undefeated until the last game is certainly something new for a Buffalo team to accomplish. The Buffs have been the underdogs so long in football that the fans hardly realize what an impression of respect has gone out for the ability and performance of the team this year. The boys who have fought the battles this year are due all the glory that could possibly be given. But not alone that. The prediction of Coach Al Baggett has been fully justified when he started Buffalo Courts as a housing place for the athletes. He made the prediction that the men would be more easily controlled, and that better conditions would prevail. His judgment has proven sound. With 66 men housed in Buffalo Courts, it is remarkable that hardly a case of discipline has resulted. This year's Buffalo squad has been one of the most gentlemanly aggregations ever assembled at W. T. A new era in athletics has dawned at W. T. Bigger and better things were started in 1936 by the Buffalo squad, and the boys may look back in years that are to come with exquisite pleasure in having had a part in the movement for better football in W. T. Congratulations to the sturdy team of 1936, and to Coaches Baggett May and Cox.

Just what is the matter with the Texas Highway Commission? The people in the Panhandle would like to know what is going on. Two years ago a large delegation of citizens went to Austin asking that the gaps be closed in the Panhandle. The commission promised that this would be done during Centennial year, 1936. Governor Allred made the same statement several times, promising that Amarillo would be connected by a paved highway with New Mexico. Plans were drawn on both Highways 60, through Canyon, and 66, through Vega. Here it is the first of December and no contract has been let on either of these highways. It is reported from Austin that plans have not been considered for either highway. This past week Chairman Hines of the Highway Commission issued a rebuking statement against the other two members. The term of Commissioner Martin expires in February, and a few days ago Governor Allred let it be known that he would appoint a man agreeable to Mr. Hines. So far as most of the Panhandle counties are concerned, there is no kick coming, but to see both of the national highways running east and west through this section remain unpaved after all the promises to do something in 1936 looks rather queer to people of this section.

The new tax bill passed by the last session of congress was one of the chief objects for disapproval of the Republicans during the recent campaign. Distributing the huge reserves of the big corporations was the object of the bill. While the government may not receive direct taxes to any great amount, the results have been about the same. The big corporations have declared extra dividends to the millions of investors, most of them persons of moderate means holding small blocks of stock; the corporations have voted bonuses to the employees, and in many instances have increased wages. All in all it looks like the corporations have done a pretty good job of distribution, all of which improves business and in the end will bring to the government greater revenues.

Visitors from the Panhandle to Washington and New York during the past three weeks returned rather alarmed with prospects of the immediate future. Inflation is said to be on its way in a big way. Wall Street is looking for another spree of stock market gambling and high prices, equal to that of 1929. There is plenty of idle money in the nation, the owners of which are itching to put it to work. Once the gambling spirit hits, away goes prices. Economists predicted three years ago that if recovery was accomplished in a reasonable time, another crash would hit this nation early in the 50's. The economists may predict, but just how many of us will be sensible enough to escape the gambling spree which seems to be on its way?

RFC is said to be on its way out. No more loans are being made, and by law this branch of government will retire from business in February unless renewed by congress. As a loaning agency it has performed a great service. Jesse Jones, able chairman, has been the directing power. This corporation has more than paid its own way from the interest collected. Of necessity many of the loans will be slow of collection, and a skeleton organization will be maintained for many years to come. Mr. Jones will probably not be content to remain only as a collecting agent for the government, and will probably return to his private affairs. When he retires, it will be with the feeling of having accomplished a great service to the people of his nation.

President Roosevelt is worried about 7½ billions of foreign money which is invested in the stock markets of this nation. The foreign investors have placed their money here while war is threatened in Europe. Or is it that they see a good opportunity to run up American stocks, and then get out with a big profit? This nation has something else to worry about—the 15 or 20 billion of dollars which were sent to Europe to finance the world war and to rebuild Europe after the war, which have never been sent back home. It looks like the United States has been taken for a ride on international finances.

Millions of people have enjoyed turkey during the past week. But those who produced these turkeys have suffered a great financial loss. Turkeys have seldom been so cheap as this year. Very few producers realized more than their feed bill, with nothing for their hard work during the summer and fall. This is one of the problems of this government which remains unsettled. Why should turkeys be the cheapest meat on the market? Why do some commodities hit the cellar while like commodities on the market sell at a high price? There is something radically wrong with the marketing system of this nation.

It looks like the family of President Roosevelt is getting pretty well mixed up with the chief critics of the administration. One of the President's sons will marry a du Pont, sponsors of the Liberty League and chief backer of the Republican war chest; Another son of the President is managing a radio chain for Hearst, most ardent critic of the administration; a son-in-law of the President has been named by Hearst to manage one of his numerous daily newspapers.

The Republicans and Democrats spent 13 million dollars in the recent campaign. So far as results were concerned the money was wasted. President Roosevelt was elected before the campaign started so far as the average voter was concerned.

Fame is of short duration. The ardent Republican newspaper, New York Herald-Tribune, referred to him last week as Governor "Albert" M. Landon.

T-Anchor Rapidly Becoming Modern And Well-Equipped

A unique West Texas institution, the T-Anchor farm is rapidly becoming one of the most modern and well-equipped plants of its kind in existence. Under the supervision of T. M. Moore of the department of agriculture, a comprehensive program of improvement and expansion has been carried on during the past year, bringing the T-Anchor to a high standard of efficiency.

Operated under the supervision of the department of agriculture, as a co-operative institution, the 200-acre college farm, headquarters of the old T-Anchor ranch, provides annually for forty boys. The work is handled through student foremen. Farm boys are quartered in five modern houses.

Heading the list of important improvements completed during the past year, an overhead tank has been erected and water is piped to the houses and dairy. A new well, recently completed, supplies approximately forty gallons of pure water per minute.

An electric refrigerator and gas aerator for cooling and preserving milk has been added to the equipment of the farm dairy, which supplies milk to all college dormitories.

The farm laundry has recently been equipped with two electric washing machines, electric irons, and an electric mangle. Farm boys are enabled to do their own laundry conveniently and economically.

Two of the farm houses have been completely refinished, repapered and refloored. Paint was supplied without cost by the duPont Company, which has an experiment plant located on the College Farm.

The paint farm itself, is a unique institution. Maintained by one of the largest paint manufacturers in the United States, it is used as a testing ground for all types of paints and varnishes. The plant at the T-Anchor is one of four maintained in the United States.

A Chevrolet truck for transporting farm students to and from the college, and a Ford V-8 pick-up for milk delivery, were added to the equipment of the T-Anchor this year.

A large nursery, caring for approximately 75,000 trees and shrubs, has been located at the T-Anchor by the Texas State Highway Department while plans to enlarge the plant are now being considered. More than one thousand trees are still available to the college from this source. Eight varieties of trees, including cottonwood, desert willow, chinese elm, honey locust, catalpa, three of heaven, wild chinaberry, and American elm, supplemented by a wide variety of shrubs and vines, are planted in the three-acre nursery.

As a part of the T-Anchor beautification program, 121 trees were planted last spring, lining the highway in front of the farm. Of this number, 119 are still living. Plans are being made now to construct an appropriate rock wall and entrance for the rock house on the T-Anchor.

Farming makes the institution practically self-supporting under normal conditions, Mr. Moore stated. A trench silo, containing 150 tons of silage for winter feeding, provides for twenty-seven head of Jersey cows on the farm dairy. The College Farm is an important unit in the great co-operative plan maintained by the College.

Band Broadcasts Over Centennial Network In Dallas

Music from the Buffalo Band of W. T. was heard over the Centennial network in a 15-minute broadcast from the Gulf Studio in the Texas Centennial Exposition grounds at Dallas Friday.

The Band further advertised W. T. with numerous other concerts during their 5-day trip to the Centennial Exposition.

Leaving here Wednesday morning, they played the first concert at Memphis. Another program was given in Childress High School the same day. The band spent Wednesday night in Wichita Falls where the members attended a movie through the courtesy of the management of the Majestic Theater.

In addition to their radio broadcast, the band played open concerts on the grounds, and members visited the Exposition Friday.

Saturday they went to Ft. Worth where they played for members of the State Teachers Association at the Texas Hotel. Concerts were also given at the Worth Hotel and the Blackstone Hotel in Ft. Worth.

The band gave a concert at Baird Saturday night, and participated in the church services of the First Baptist Church in Sweetwater Sunday morning. They arrived here at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Topping of New College Drives Begun Yesterday

Topping of the college drives was begun Monday, and should be completed by Thursday night, R. A. Terrill, superintendent of campus buildings, sates.

Beds of the drives have been in condition for topping for several weeks, but work was delayed because materials were not on hand.

Twenty-five WPA workers are employed on the project.

The beds of the drives are first swept with a mechanical sweeper, and the first layer of asphalt is layed. A layer of coarse crushed rock follows, and is packed with a steam roller. Another layer of asphalt is spread over this base, and the final surface of fine crushed rock is spread and levelled with a steam roller.

Work on the tennis bleachers is being continued with ten WPA workers under Gus Miller, foreman. These bleachers are made up of four rows and run the length of the two courts.

Teacher's Place Stressed By Hill In Talk To Exes

Teacher-Training Work Too Little Known, Says Speaker

"The crucial place which the teacher occupies in the life of the nation demands that he be the best educated citizen of the commonwealth," declared President J. A. Hill, as he spoke before hundreds of ex-students of the seven teacher-training colleges of Texas as they were gathered around the banquet tables of the Federated Ex-students Association of Texas Teachers Colleges.

President Hill also said "You who are present tonight represent more than 150,000 ex-students of teachers colleges of this state. In most cases you and they are influential citizens. Your power for good is beyond measure."

The work of teacher-training colleges is too little known, according to Dr. Hill. "We proprose to press our campaign for the diffusion of knowledge about the teachers colleges among the people who own them. The citizens of this state are entitled to have full knowledge of all tax-supported institutions and it is the responsibility of those who administer them to see to it that the people are informed. The Federated Ex-students Association of the Teachers Colleges of Texas has a tremendous opportunity. It is challenged to continue a battle for better schools for all children of all the people.

The Federated Ex-students Association is unlike any other organization known in the United States and the banquet at Fort Worth is probably the first of its kind ever held. Lieutenant-Governor Walter Woodul was a speaker on the program.

Mrs. J. P. Upchurch, demonstrator of the Zita Home Demonstration club had one of the few good gardens in the county. The family used fresh vegetables for 5½ months. Mrs. Upchurch canned 200 containers of vegetables, then sold $18.60 of fresh vegetables from her garden. The total expense of the garden was $6.45. The fruit had to be bought, but as the family preferred home canned fruit, Mrs. Upchurch bought 9 bushels to can. The total cost of the pantry, including cans, lids, sugar, vinegar, fruit, lumber and paint for shelves was $34.21.

STORIES FROM WESTSIDE CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Joe Baber, co-operator in the Westside Home Demonstration Club says, "A very good way to thicken broth from chicken or roast meat is to sprinkle the flour over the boiling liquid and then beat briskly with an egg beater several minutes. In this way your gravy will be smooth instead of lumpy as it sometimes is when a thickening has been made and added to the liquid."

"I was in need of a way to carry several pies without ruining them, so I made a box," says Mrs. W. C. Roberts. "I took a square cardboard box, placed one pie in the bottom, then cut slits in opsite sides of the box, inserting a thin board and made another layer in the same way. When I had finished I had a box that would carry four pies without either one touching the other."

"Since we had a bountiful supply of wild grapes, and my family did not care for them, I had to find some way to use them," says Mrs. J. W. Bourn of the Westside Home Demonstration Club. "I made up 40 quarts of jelly and canned 4 quarts of the juice for future jelly making. Also one half gallon of concord grape juice, 8 quarts concord jelly, and 4 quarts of concord jam were put up."

New Art Exhibit Is Placed in Museum Until Dec. 17

A new exhibit has been placed in the art room at the museum this week. It will remain up until December 17.

The present exhibit consists of 19 monotypes by Frank Klepper, Dallas artist, who was a member of the faculty of the Palo Duro School of Art last summer. An exhibit of his painting was shown in the museum last year.

A monotype is a colored print made on paper from oil painting on metal or glass. Only one print of each painting can be made, hence the name monotype, according to Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the college art department.

Frank Klepper is one of the leading landscape painters and teachers of the Southwest. His name appears in the American art annual and he is written up in Art and Artists of Texas. He has specialized in lanndscape and negro subjects and of late has shown an interest in etching.

Most of the prints of the present exhibit are highly symbolical. They have such titles as "Morning," "Inevitable," "Dance Rhythm," "Conscience."

Just before being sent to Canyon this exhibit was shown in the Witte Museum at San Antonio.

Miss Robinston states that this exhibit will be followed on Dec. 17 by the second exhibit of Living American Art. The first exhibit of that series was removed about two weeks ago.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Wealth of Brilliant Gridiron Material Makes 1936 All-America Selection Difficult, but Here It Is EXCELLENT gridiron material romped the nation's football fields in abundance this year and vastly complicated the sports writer's task of making an All-America selection.

Experts differ widely in their choices, so, lacking an agreement, we have picked a mythical eleven which at least should prove superior to the rank and file of college teams from coast to coast.

• • •

WE don't think many will dispute our choice of Larry Kelley for one of the end jobs. The colorful Irishman kept the Bulldogs in good humor all season, both with his wisecracks and his faculty for doing the right thing at the right time.

Gaynell Tinsley's specialty is grabbing passes good for lengthy gains. Time and again this year he functioned successfully in this role, and to him goes a large share of the credit for Louisiana State's great showing in the Southeastern Conference.

Not many yards were picked up by the enemy through that section of the Pittsburgh line occupied by Averell Daniell, bulky Panther tackle. Daniell stood out on a team noted for its fine tackles.

The same can be said for big Ed Widseth, who performed brilliantly throughout the campaign for the Gophers. The only blot against his record is his striking Don Geyer in the Northwestern game, an action which paved the way for a Wildcat score and a consequent defeat for Minnesota.

Steve Reid, Northwestern, is generally conceded to be among the finest running guards in football.

• • •

DENVER UNIVERSITY'S ace guard, Alex Drobnitch, played both sides of the wall this season in a highly acceptable manner. He is a smart youngster with an accurate toe, having registered 17 consecutive conversions.

Alex Wojciechowicz will be remembered for a long time at Fordham, for he is the center and the outstanding figure in what is rated as being the strongest line in collegiate football.

Joe Riley was the mainspring of this year's sophomore-studded Crimson Tide from Alabama. He is a fleet lad especially adept at running back kicks, and is an accurate passer in the bargain.

Don Heap, Northwestern, is a triple-threater and the sort of fellow who comes through in a pinch for old alma mater.

That Marquette was highly regarded this year was due in no small measure to the brilliancy of Ray Buivid, a really great back who is one of the best passers ever to grace a gridiron.

Sam Francis of Nebraska is a remarkable all-round fullback who kicks, passes, and backs up the line in noteworthy fashion.

Typical of the brilliant gridsters of 1936 was Capt. Ray (Buzz) Buivid of Marquette, shown above in fighting action. Buivid symbolizes the work of his All-America teammates listed in the inset box.

THE EAGLE'S TALE

Back The Basketeers!

VOL. NO. 11. CANYON, TEXAS, DECEMBER 3, 1936. NUMBER 12

Say, kids, I hope you all don't have the belly ache like I do. Boy, howdy, I really did justice to the turkey last Thursday.

You know, kids, there's something the kids of Canyon High School should be thankful for, and that's cause Captain Jack Middleton and a little blonde that plays guard on the basketball team has made up. Everybody should celebrate.

Say, folks, you know what, that oldest Drummond boy is really popular. Last Monday in the press room Marie O'Donald winked at him and then used the excuse that she had something in her eye.

I wuz in town tother day and saw lots of exes back in town. Shore wuz glad for all of 'em to be back in town and hopes they make it home Xmas.

Boy, you Eaglettes really played a grand game, even if you jest beat them Lassies by one point. The second string had a hard time having to play part of Tulia's first string.

I've been in town a lot and it shore looks like Jack Inman is picking a girl from his own trade! You know Jack's a dairyman.

Lissen, Tulia, you better go on and carry the purple and white on along with your maroon and white to Panhandle this week-end. We're backing you a hundred per cent.

Your old side kick,

Cactus.

P. S. I heard one of them basketball heroes had a birthday. Listen, Bot, make the most of yer young life before yer git out on the farm like I have and have to walk with a cane; anyway, happy birthday to you from Cactus.

Tother night after the girls' game with Tulia, when Coach Hutto was all pooped out after refereeing the game, Mr. Brown said, "You know, coach, I believe I could take a good referee and beat Tulia."

Say, kids, if you got any trouble est tell ole

Cactus.

BACK BASKETBALL TEAMS

Do you come to each basketball game and back the Eagles and Eaglettes to the best of your ability? Many people seem to forget about the Eagles' games when football season is over and seem to lose their school spirit.

This year we have two good basketball coaches and as a result two good teams; but if these teams are going to win they must be backed by the town people as well as by 100 per cent of the student body.

The pep squad should again start wearing their suits to the games and the drum corps should be reorganized of those not participating in basketball so that it will really be good next year. The drum corps could work out drills to give during the half and between the games.

If the school spirit is revived and the students and townspeople back the Eagles and Eaglettes, Canyon High School will have a successful year in basketball.

LOAFING OR LAZY?

"I don't have my lesson today"; this is what some teacher hears every day.

"I went to a party last night," or "I went to a show," or "I was just simply too tired to work" are only a few samples of some of the excuses the poor teachers have to put up with. Well, maybe a poor excuse is better than none. But when it comes to the grades, students expect an "A" even if they were "too busy."

What's the matter with the boys and girls? Maybe they are infants and can't work; well, if they are, they should be back in the first or second grade instead of being freshmen, sophomores, juniors, or seniors.

Let's get down to business and show the teachers that we can really work. Let's fight for the "A's" in the class. Everyone admires an "A" student and everyone likes to be admired; so let's get busy.

Dramatics Club Organizes Under Sponsor Of Moore

Stage-Crafters Decided as Name; Chambers Selected as President; Mayfield Is Vice-president.

All high school students interested in forming a dramatics club met with the Speech class last Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock and got the club well under way. Mr. H. G. Moore, teacher of English and speech, is the sponsor.

Mildred Shuman was temporary chairman, with Betty Ruth Soloman as temporary secretary until the officers were elected. Lillian Chambers was elected president; Carolyn Mayfield, vice-president; C. L. Drummond, parliamentarian; Sherman Higdon, reporter, and D. A. Butler, sergeant-at-arms.

A committee was selected to draw up a constitution and by-laws, with Mildred Shuman, chairman. The other members of the committees are C. L. Drummond, Carl Small, Jean Slack, and Hardine Rogge. "Stage-Crafter" was the name selected for the club.

It was decided that meetings will be held every other Tuesday night. Carolyn is chairman of the program committee, which is to be changed at each meeting. The next meeting is to be held at the high school at 7:00 o'clock.

The members present agreed to get a pin or an emblem of some kind to signify that they belong to the Stage-Crafter Club.

The dues are to be twenty-five cents per semester, and anyone wishing to join may be ready to apply at the next meeting. Those already joined are charter members, while those joining later will be additional members in good standing. Charter members are Mavis Harden, Nora Lee Brazil, Mary Burnett, Lonita O'Dell, Eula Bell Lovejoy, Mary Jo Avent, Renna Beth Bellah, Lillian Chambers, D. A. Butler, Charlotte Henderson, Carolyn Mayfield, Eva Griffin, Pauline Harris, Wannie Thomas, Jack Inman, Rayburn M. Drummond, Sherman Higdon, Betty Solomon, Dora Tucek, Kathleen Wright, Marie O'Donald, Helen Hurst, Billy Greenfield, Beulah Brasuel, Mary Horn, Mary Collins, and Margaret Stewart.

Faculty To Discuss Guidance

"Guidance" will again be the subject discussed by the Faculty Study Club in its regular December meeting, Thursday evening, Dec. 9. The club will meet in the home economics room at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. John B. Pope, high school principal, and Miss Fannie Sue Brasuel, teacher of home economics in the high school, will continue the discussion of guidance problems began at last month's meeting by Mrs. H. G. Moore and Mr. Milton Morris. Miss Virginia Jarrett will preisde as chairman. The refreshment committee consists of Mr. Milton Sanders, chairman, assisted by Misses Belva Cain and Jewel Foster.

STUDENT COUNCIL TAKES CHARGE OF ASSEMBLY

The Student Council plans to take charge of assembly each Wednesday. The assembly committee met last Monday afternoon in Miss Jewell Foster's room.

The teachers will have charge of the assembly programs on Mondays and the Student Council will be responsible for the programs on Wednesday.

The Student Council will take charge of the programs next Wednesday, when Melvin Calliham, president of the organization will preside. Each Wednesday following, the various school clubs will take turn about giving the program.

The Canyon High School students who attended were Anne Maxwell, Fern Walters, and Polly Cluck. There were also many students from the Training School.

The guests played Lotto, dominoes, and monopoly. They listened to the programs from foreign countries over the radio.

The refreshments served were sandwiches and punch, and cookies.

Eaglettes Defeat Tulia Lassies In Thriller

The Eaglettes defeated the Tulia Lassies for the first time this season last Wednesday night in the Eaglettes' gym.

The Lassies defeated the Eaglettes the week before in the Tulia gym. The high point players for the Eaglettes were Kate Donnell, who made 8 points; Edrie McNeil second, scoring 6, and Renna Beth Bellah scoring 4 points. The Eaglettes led the Lassies by a big margin at the half.

In the second half the Lassies began coming up on the Eaglettes, who failed to score a point. A basket was made by the Lassies just as the whistle blew, but it was not scored.

Program Given By Classes

The sections of the seventh and ninth grade English classes taught by Miss Pauline Crittenden had a Thanksgiving program during class periods Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 22.

The program given by the ninth grade, which meets at 1 o'clock, was as follows:

The Story of Thanksgiving—Glynn Persons.

Poem—Shirley Tate.

Poem—Juanita Bible.

In the contest to see who could form the most words from the words "Thanksgiving Day," Ruth Nickleson and Glynn Persons won the prizes.

The seventh grade program consisted of the following numbers:

Story of Thanksgiving—Charlene Henderson.

Poem—E. W. Woods.

Charlene Henderson and Paul Nickleson won prizes in the word contest.

Apples were served as refreshments for both classes.

Many Students Have No Knowledge Of C.H.S. Junk Room

How many students know that there is a "junk room" or "store room" in Canyon High School? Not many students have ever seen this room, as there is no entrance to it except through the art room.

In the room are things from dunce hats to Hallowe'en costumes. All kinds of posters, notebooks, horns, and even band uniforms may be found here.

One of the most interesting things in it is a hole in the ceiling, which leads to the roof of the building.

This room is seldom seen by anyone except janitors and teachers, but its contents are interesting.

Grade Notes

Mrs. Ola Beason has one pupil moving away and one moving here. Marjorie Thompson moved to Bovina, and Jimmie Reves has moved to Canyon from Alta Vista school of Abilene.

Mrs. Isabel Cousins has one student moving to Wichita, Kansas. Belvery Sanders is back in school after an illness of tonsilitis.

Mr. Gordon Beck has several interesting wall hangings about history and geography. His pupils have a collection of Indian pottery and arrow heads. Several notebooks and scrap books have been turned in, with pictures which show the life of the people in history.

Mrs. John Davis had an interesting program in home room put on by her 6-A group.

A bus is being made by Miss Gladys McClanahan's group.

The music students are korking on Christmas carols.

The teachers all gave the children a Thanksgiving treat last Wednesday.

Felix Shuman is back in school after an illness.

Mrs. T. W. Collins, first grade teacher was absent from school last Monday because of illness.

Jack Middleton and Forest Hill went to Fairview Friday.

Meet the Eaglettes

Leading the Eaglettes is Captain Mary Collins. Mary is a senior and has lettered two years. She plays guard and forward both, and her playing number is five. Mary is the editor of The Eagle's Tale.

Kate Donnell, senior, plays forward. Kate is president of the pep squad and the choral club. Kate's playing number is eight. She has lettered one year, and this is her last year.

Renna Beth Bellah, sophomore and a one-year letter player, plays forward. She has two more years to play. Her playing number is six.

Mavis Harden, senior, plays guard. Mavis did not letter last year but shows great possibilities for the coming season.

Natalie Flesher, junior, plays guard. If Natalie's present playing is any indication, she will be a star before the season is over. Natalie, whose playing number is two, has one more year to go.

Wanda Brock, captain of the Eaglettes' team last year, is playing her last year of basketball as guard. She plays forward and guard. Her playing number is ten.

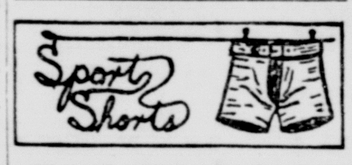

Edrie McNeil, sophomore, plays forward. Edrie is known to all her teammates by her nickname, "Sweetie." Her playing number is seven.

Billy Greenfield, senior, and one-year letter player, plays guard. Billy's playing number is one.

Carolyn Mayfield, senior and one-year letter player, plays forward. Her playing number is three.

This is Dell Bagley's first year to come out for basketball, but she shows great possibilities. Her playing number is nine; she plays guard.

Freshmen who are showing possibilities of becoming excellent players are Anna Ruth Schmitz, Sunshine Harden, and Mary Bourn.

Well, Thanksgiving is over and both the boys and the girls' basketball teams have settled down to work in earnest. Tomorrow night's game with Hartley will show how this year's Eagles will show up in the toughest basketball schedule ever made out for Canyon High School teams. Playing two and sometimes three games each week, the Eagles are out to make a name for themselves.

Ray Ford Rusk and Eston Breitling are showing up in practice as a scoring combination that will make any defense hustle to hold down. Ray Ford's play at center has shown much improvement over last year, and he was plenty good then. Eston Breitling did not play enough to letter last year, but he has developed into a basket hitter par excellent.

The girls beat Tulia last Wednesday week and didn't even score in the last half. If they can score as much in the last half as they can in the first, they will run up some fairly high scores in the games to come. Kate Donnell is pretty good with one hand; and Edrie McNeil is not bad at hitting those long shots.

The athletic council really wants to work up some interest in the basketball games to be played this year. With games to be played with Amarillo, Clovis, Friona, Tulia, Happy, and Hereford, you can see that some good teams will be in Canyon this year and the Eagles will really have to work to hold their own. Everyone in town should take advantage of the tickets being sold and come out to see the Eagles play.

POPE GOES TO SAN ANTONIO

Mr. John B. Pope, principal of the high school, is serving on the Commercial Committee of the National American Vocational Association this week in San Antonio.

This is the first year this convention has been held in this part of the south. Mr. Pope is to substitute for an out-of-state speaker at a luncheon; he will speak on certain phases of curriculum.

The Association is being held all week, and Mr. Pope will be back in school next Monday to continue his principalship work.

Members of La Tertulia, Spanish Club, have begun to learn some Christmas songs in Spanish. Some of these are "Silent Night," "Hark the Herald Angels Sing!" "Oh Little Town ofBethlehem," and a few other Christmas carols.

Expression Class Organized By Beck

An expression class has been organized by Mr. Gordon Beck, teacher of history and geography in the elementary school.

His is a class of four boys who are: Harold Donnell, from the fifth grade; Billy Oscar Gano, from the sixth grade; Arthur Duncan, from the fifth grade; and Clarence Thompson, from the sixth grade. They are taking their work as a class, which gives them a better chance to learn more things and for the helpful questions from the students to give ideas.

Mr. Beck also has two private students, Martha Hanna Hammond from the fifth grade, and Willis Criswell from the sixth grade.

Mr. Beck has time and would like to organize another class if all who are interested will see him and make arrangements.

Mr. Beck's private students and class of expression will give a recital with the music students when they have learned the principals of expression.

Classes Receive New Equipment

New equipment has been received to be used in the library and in the typing laboratory.

The typing class will now write to music, as three double, especially made records, made by the Gregg Company to be used in typing classes were received last Monday. The music is to make for better rhythm.

A new book, "20,000 Words," which contains words spelled and divided, was also received to be used in the typing room.

New books in the library are "The Scarlet Pimpenel," by Archy; "In the Days of Poor Richard," by Bachelder; and "Who's Who In America," a reference addition. Books which have been replaced by new copies are "Merrylips," by Dix; "The Log of a Cowboy," by Adams; "Lone Cowboy," by Will James; and "Log Cabin Lady," anonymous.

Are You Yourself Or Movie Star's Double?

How many of us have ever come out of a picture show, acting and feeling like one of the stars of the picture? How many of the girls have put on a dash of greeneye mascara or tried to fluff their hair in the Garbo or Lombard style or curved lips to look glamorous? Haven't all of the women folk tried to get their dresses just a little bit tighter to look like Harlow?

Undoubtedly most of the female clan is guilty.

But the boys aren't exempt. What boy doesn't like to wave his hair, to dress and to do that streamlined Clark Gable or Robert Taylor strut? All the girls are either Clark Gable or Robert Taylor fans, and so the boys try to slip by on their popularity the Gable or Taylor way. Some succeed. Some don't. But just the same the girls like the fluffy hair or the tight ringlets of Kathryn Hepburn.

Do we all like Gable's, Crawford's, Tone's, Colbert's, Hepburn's, or Bob Burns' little fascinations, or do we like just being ourselves some of the time?

THE THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

Do what you can,
Where you are,
With what you have.
—Theodore Roosevelt.

Mary Charlotte Word, former students of Canyon High School, who now lives in Clarendon, visited friends here during the holidays.

Miss Elva Fronabarger, principal of the grade school, was absent Monday because of illness.

Lillian Chambers spent Thanksgiving holidays visiting her sister in Hereford.

Margaret Stewart and Helen Hurst spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of Marie O'Donald.

Anne Maxwell spent Thursday at the CCC camp of which her father is captain.

Natalie Flesher spent Saturday and Sunday visiting in Hereford.

Bible Class Hears Local Pastors

The Bible Class had as teachers different speakers from eachof the churches represented in the class during the absence this week of the teacher, Mr. John B. Pope.

The following pastors talked:

The Rev. J. R. Hicks, Baptist pastor, Monday; the Rev. Chas. L. Dickey, Presbyterian pastor, Tuesday; the Rev. Earl Craig, pastor of the Church of Christ, Wednesday; the Rev. Bill Jones, visiting evangelist at the Assembly of God, Thursday; and the Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, Methodist pastor, will speak tomorrow.

BOOK REVIEW

Knowing the life of the author of a book helps one to understand his character. His likes and dislikes are related in his biography.

Things that are very interesting that are not touched upon in the books—his philosophy of life, his hobbies, home life, and surroundings—are all of interest and will help one to understand why authors have different ideas of writing as to character, style, plots and conclusions.

Why not know your authors better by reading the following books that are in the library: "Living Authors, Authors Today and Yesterday," and "The Junior Books of Authors."

These books have a short life of each writer, with the most interesting and important things of his life. The selections are short, readable, and in a style that is understandable and pleasing to the young readers for whom they are designed.

CONTROL OF MUNITIONS IS DEBATE QUESTION

"Resolved: That the manufacture of munitions of war should be a government monopoly" is the Interscholastic League subject for debate this year.

Several debate bulletins have been received. Melvin Calliham, who made the boys' debate teaem last year and went to the finals in the district meet, is again debating. Lillian Chambers, Mildred Shuman, and Billy Greenfield are the girls who have started work on debating. Mildred and Lillian were on the team last year and Billy substituted.

Others will start soon, with Mr. Gerald Brown, coaching.

Hazel Benton, former student of Canyon High, now living at Kress, visited in Canyon Friday and Saturday.

Mary Ann Baird spent Thursday and Friday visiting in the home of Natalie Flesher.

EAGLETTES AND EAGLES PLAY HARTLEY FRI.

The Eagles and Eaglettes will go to Hartley tomorrow to play the Tigers and Tigeresses in their den.

This game is the first game of basketball for the Eagles this season. They have been practicing only a short time, as football season wasn't over until Armistice Day.

Hartley has been playing all this fall because they do not participate in football. Hartley has played several games this season and have the record of being undefeated.

The Eagles have four lettermen back this year: Ray Ford Rusk, Melvin Calliham, C. L. Drummond and D. A. Butler. Only one of these played on the Eagles' first string last year; that was "Bot" Rusk.

Coach Morris told the boys that they had been practicing for only a short time, and that the string that he picked might not be the one that would play the rest of the year. He stated, "Hartley has not been defeated this year, but we don't know how strong the teams are that they have played."

The Eagles have one of the hardest schedules they have had in many years. Clovis, who won fourth in their state last year; Pampa, who went to finals in regionals last year; Amarillo, who defeated the Eagles in district last year; and Friona, who won the district over Amarillo the same year. They also have planned to attend two tournaments, where they will compete with some good teams.

Supt. Clyde Keith is coaching the Hartley girls. His forwards are three-letter players; they are Bessie Hammond, Bernice Thompson, and Clare Wiseman. All guards hold two letters, being Billie Kelson, Vera Reed, and Mary Henderson. Agnes Horning is a one-letter player, a reserve guard. Otherreserves are Maurine Fryer, Dorothy Marie Kelley, Lois Styce, Grace Cullender, Gwendolyn Sims, and Fayrene Henderson.

The Eaglettes are going strong, having beaten Tulia one point and held their own in all games; they will be going full speed ahead in this game. Coach Brown will take twelve girls to Hartley, as follows: Kate Donnell, Edrie McNeil, Renna Beth Bellah, Mavis Harden, Dell Bagley, Wanda Brock, Billy Greenfield, Natalie Flesher, Carolyn Mayfield, Mary Collins, Anna Ruth Schmitz, and Mary Jo Avent.

The games played were marbles, ping pong, shuffle board, and others.

Varsity Hoopsters Don Uniforms In Official Practice

Three Lettermen Return; Sophs Augment Squad

Burton Gym was a rendezvous for the initial regular practice session of the 1936-37 edition of West Texas State's cagers Monday when a prolific supply of aspirants swarmed over the maple floor.

Coach Baggett has four tentative practice games before the Christmas holidays. The first will probably be played at Canyon with the Portales Junior College and others are with the Panhandle Aggies of Goodwell, Okla.

The Buff mentor will have to mold his squad around three returning lettermen — Captain Lawrence Clark, Conway Butler, and Craig "Whiteboy" Walling.

A horde of rangy sophomores have enhanced the squad and several of them should step into the ranking slots. Raymond Shackelford looms as a logical contender for the pivot post. Lother Stevenson, John Willingham, and Ben Arthur, all tall hoopsters, will doubtless see much service during the year.

Other potential Buffs that were formidable members of the Yearling five last year are Joe Hays, diminutive Lloyd Johnson, and L. O. Speer.

Nearby Fossil Bed Ranks High In U. S. Paleontology

A fossil bed within seventeen miles of Canyon, promises to become one of the most important in the United States, according to C. Stuart Johnston, paleontologist of W. T.

"These fossils represent the life of the Pliocene Age about 5,000,000 years ago," said Johnston. "We have found a great variety of animals and they enable us to fill in a wide gap in our pre-history."

Although the beds have been known for two years, extensive excavation has just started with ten WPA workers under the supervision of Mrs. Stuart Johnston and with R. O. Reynolds of Clarendon as project foreman. More men will be added to the gang as they are available.

Fossils which are excavated will be prepared and exhibited in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum and duplicates will be exchanged with other museums in all sections of the country.

Condron Talks on Spain Situation at Rotary Luncheon

Prof. S. H. Condron of W. T. discussed the present revolution in Spain, Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon. The speaker was introduced by Bill Smith, chairman of the program committee.

Mr. Condron described the present revolution as a show-down of the two great forces which have been working in Europe. The present situation is an outgrowth of the holy alliance which sought to suppress democracy.

The speaker believes that the present Spanish upheaval is merely a smoke screen while Mussolini and Hitler accomplish something bigger—the alliance with Japan.

Spain is about three-fourths the size of Texas. The people are poor and have been dominated by the church and an autocratic state. A republic was proclaimed in 1931, but the government was composed of 30 political parties, which changed often. Under the laws passed the church was nationalized; church property was confiscated; public schools established; property of the nobles was confiscated; the army was re-organized.

In 1933 an election was held and the nation swung back in favor of the monarchy, with many of the reforms repealed. Violence was common.

In February of this year the nation swung back to the radicals. The revolution broke out in July after the murder of an army officer.

Three forces are responsible for the present revolution: The nobility, which proclaimed to 90% of the people that they must remain serfs; the army, which favors the monarchs, and is composed largely of the sons of nobility; and the church. The people are Catholic in belief and are devoted to the church. The difficulty over the church is due to 10 times as many priests as necessary; some are tax collectors, and others dictate when elections are held. While the people love their church they are opposed to the way it is conducted.

In August the nations of the world decided to become neutral. It was clear that England and France favored the government, while Italy and Germany favored the revolutionists.

Mr. Condron believes that the trip of President Roosevelt to South America will have a good effect upon the situation and will give warning that these continents are going to stand for peace.

The Buffalo football squad will be entertained by the Rotary Club next Tuesday, and the Eagles at a later date.

E. M. Blackburn of Amarillo was a visitor.

Cream of Oatmeal Soup a Favorite With Many

Creamed soups will always be the favorite in some households. And in those households, Cream of Oatmeal Soup comes near to topping the list of champions. This delicious soup is most easy to make, too.

To one cup cooked and strained Quaker Oats—ground—add four cups of highly seasoned chicken or veal stock; season to taste with salt and pepper, tablespoon of onion juice, and one-half tablespoons finely chopped parsley. Bring soup to boiling point; remove from range and add a half cup of scalded cream and the yolks of two raw eggs, well beaten; mix well. Do not allow soup to boil after adding eggs.

Tierra Blanca Dam

benefit to the farmers and ranchman.

Vern Witherspoon stated a big dam was something he had wished to see for the past 40 years. He believed it would be of greater benefit than anything else in the Panhandle.

While not opposing the idea, F. H. Oberthier stated that the land owners should be consulted before further steps were taken.

C. R. Smith knows the Tierra Blanca as well as any man in the Panhandle and stated that the place selected was the most logical one. "A dam located at that point will be economical and will hold more water than any dam that could be built in Texas."

Dr. C. E. Donnell, whose ranch would be covered by water if the dam was built, stated that the project was needed for flood control, for conservation of water in the Panhandle, and for a recreational center. He was willing to leave the value of the land up to any fair minded committee.

Judge C. F. Kerr stated that the Amarillo lake had raised the water level from 40 to 50 feet along the Palo Duro, and believed a dam on the Tierra Blanca would raise the water level for the irrigation wells in Deaf Smith county.

G. G. Foster and others from Canyon made short statements.

S. H. Condron closed the discussion by telling of what had been accomplished by dams in other sections, and what attractive recreational centers had resulted. He pointed to the ideal climate of the Panhandle and believed that thousands of fishermen from all over the Southwest would be attracted here when the lake was stocked with fish. The state will establish a fish hatchery to insure the stocking of the lake and other lakes and streams of the Panhandle.

The citizens of Hereford voted unanimously to endorse the plan and to give all of the assistance possible to the project.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Barnett have returned from Dallas where they went last week on business. They returned by way of Dallas and visited the Centennial.

SANTA CLAUS ON WAY TO CANYON

Good old Santa Claus is all packed up and ready to start to Canyon where he will leave thousands of useful and serviceable presents for all members of the family. The business firms of Canyon cordially invite Christmas Shoppers to visit them first in making up their Christmas Gift Lists. Never before have the stores presented to the buying public such complete stocks of new merchandise as this year. Shoppers will find it to their advantage to take advantage of the special offerings which are being made during the holidays by the business houses of Canyon. The Chamber of Commerce has many special inducements during every week until Christmas, which will prove profitable to those people coming to Canyon.

Have You Bought A Season Ticket?

VOL. NO. 11. CANYON, TEXAS, DECEMBER 10, 1936. NUMBER 12

Say, now, don't these C-Club members do the funniest things? Forest, you sure were perty in thet girl's costume last Friday. Sherman, why the cute make-up? And by the way, I was jest noticing how natural that striped dress looked on you. And Luke, that new-styled hat you had on was simply ducky. It shore made you look smart and snappy. Herbert, you sure looked spiffy in your new dress.

My, I didn't know our boys were so good at polishing shoes. I'll have to get 'em to polish mine some day. I liked that good old C. H. S. dust on the knees of yore pants, after you had polished somebody's shoes! It made them look smart. Mr. Brown had a chance to git his polished; but I guess he didn't think that polish was good enuff fer him, 'cause he refused. And here's to Joe Gill and Jack Inman. Sue didn't move after all; now aren't you glad. I am, 'cause I like Sue an arful lot. Here's to you, Sue, old gal.

Say, Coach, will ya take me riding some time in that new V-8 of yours? (That is, if you're not dated up fer the season.) Please!

Mr. Pope, we shore are glad to have you back. We hope you had a good time on that trip, but we really missed you.

Jimmy, I sure did enjoy thet solo of yours t'other Monday in in assembly. Didn't ever hear anything like it before in my C. H. S. school days.

All of you basketball girls and boys had better work hard and win some games this year.

If anybody's got any heart-breaks or would like to shoot anybody, jest consult ol' Cactus.

BUY YOUR TICKET NOW

Has every student who isn't coming out for basketball bought a ticket for the season? It seems that the students aren't behind these bargains as they were for the football special rate tickets. Could it be that the basketball season hasn't been talked up as 't should be. Surely this is the reason, or there would have been more money for the athletic department by now.

If for no other reason, the students should buy tickets to help pay back the support given us during the football season.

If the students buy tickets and influence their parents to buy them, we shall have better crowds and a much better team.

JUNIOR PINS, OR NOT?

Juniors, do we really want class pins? Are they worth the amount that we would have to put into them? Would we want to wear them after this year?

There are two sides to this question. One is that we will be juniors only once and would like to have some remembrance of the fact. The other one is the expense of the pins, also the fact that we shall have our senior rings next year. Let us think both questions over and make a wise decision.

CAN YOU EARN SUCCESS?

Are you going to "do something and be somebody," or are we just going to go around shiftless and take the world as it comes?

Everyone has an equal chance to "go somewhere." Success is something that can't be bought or borrowed. Maybe you can borrow someone's geometry problems for your class, but you can't borrow success. You must earn it.

People judge us from our actions and our appearance. What will be the judgment passed on you?

Shine, Shine Shoe Shine Boy!

How many of us have ever come out of a barber shop feeling as if he would like to be a "shine boy"? If you glanced last week at some of our high school boys who belong to a new organization, you might have thought they had been so inspired; but in this case it is a false statement.

If you had been near the high school steps last Friday you might have received a shoe shine; because this was initiation day for the C-Club.

It so happened that a teacher got his shoes shined and tipped the boy a dime. The latter decided it would be a nice start for the treasury; so full-heartedly he gave it to the club.. It would be nice for the organization if there were more shoe-shining boys!

Warwick Talks To Journalism Class

"The front page is the open door to a newspaper," Mr. Clyde W. Warwick explained to the journalism class Monday. Mr. Warwick is the editor and owner of the Canyon News. He told the journalism class about heads, why the front page is important, and the different kinds of newspapers.

Mr. Warwick explained that the effectiveness of a paper depends upon the attractiveness of its front page; and that the attractiveness of the front page is largely dependent upon the headlines used. He illustrated his point by letting the class examine and criticize representative Panhandle newspapers.

EAGLETTES ARE DEFEATED

The Eaglettes were defeated Wednesday night, Dec. 3, with a score of 21 to 18, when they played the Women's Athletic Association at the college.

The Eaglettes clicked into smooth running plays in the second half, which brought the score from 3, which was made in the first half, to 18.

This was only a practice game, in which new plays and defensive work was used.

GRADE SCHOOL CHILDREN GIVE XMAS PROGRAM

The grade school children will give a Christmas program for the regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, to be held Thursday evening, Dec. 17, in the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

A Christmas story will be told by Mrs. Dan Sanders.

The P. T. A. executive meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 16, at 4 o'clock.

Lettermen Parade In Best Togs Friday

Dresses, high heels, rouge, lipstick, shoe polish, etc. were seen on this year's football lettermen who are new members in the C-Club.

"Misses" Forest Hill, Luke Miller, Herbert Mariner and Sherman Higdon were the cutest little girls ever seen in this school. Miss Hill's white shoes were a perfect fit.

All the members of the C-Club really had their shoes looking nice after the new lettermen had polished shoes, boots, and more shoes. Fairy Hill made fifteen cents from shining shoes and gave it to the C-Club treaurer. Jimmie Carr and Jimmie Pope also helped shine shoes. Jimmie Pope sang a solo, "Empty Saddles," in assembly Wednesday morning.

The C-Club met last Thursday night and voted to sponsor the football banquet this year. Melvin Calliham, Mary Collins, and Edrie McNeil were appointed to find an organization to serve the banquet.

The club will meet every other Thursday.

Ray Ford Rusk was elected sergeant-at-arms to keep order.

The club also voted to get behind the sale of season basketball tickets one hundred percent.

Dramatists Meet Tuesday Eve

The Stage Crafters, high school dramatics club, met last Tuesday evening at the high school at 7:30 o'clock.

The Training School Dramatics Club presented a playlet entitled, "The Healing Messiah." It was a Christmas play with the following as characters: A. G. Thornton, Lela Loudder, Bernard Vaughn, Howard Boling, and others. This is an example of the work the Stage Crafters plan to do during the remainder of the school year.

The constitution was read, being drawn up by Mildred Shuman, C. L. Drummond, Carl Small, Jean Slack, and Hardine Rogge. Mildred was chairman of the committee.

Carolyn Mayfield, vice-president of the club, was chairman of the program committee, and Lillian Chambers presided as president of the club.

Basketball season has opened with a bang. The Eagles have another good team, and Coach Milton Morris has expressed an optimistic outlook for a good season. Coach Gerald Brown is rapidly fashioning a good strong team from the wealth of material at hand.

What About Greenfield?

Billy Greenfield, guard on the girls' team, has a new cap. It looks so much like an old-fashioned muffler that "Bot" Rusk started calling her "Gramma." When Billy was put in the Hartley game, the Hartley fans were sort of shocked to hear all the Canyon boys yelling for "Gramma" to get in there and fight.

The Eagles' first team rode to Hartley in Coach Brown's new V-8. Boy, what a load he had. Mary Collins must have made the springs groan long and loud when she stepped in. Mary and Natalie Flesher sat in the floor of the back seat at that. (I wonder how Coach Brown felt with six muscular feminines in the car with him. Seems to me there should have been a body guard for the poor fellow.)

Comparison of Weights

A little comparison of weights is now in order. Dell Bagley, guard on the girls' team, weighs 171 pounds. Jimmie Pope, football guard and basketball guard, weighs 140 pounds. Kate Donnell, basketball forward, weighs 155. Eston Breitling, forward for the Eagles, weighs 130. Ray Ford Rusk helps a little with his 190 pounds, but Mary Collins tips the scales at 140 to help the girls keep the balance in their favor.

If the girls all sit on one side of the bus, and the boys on the other, the girls' side would be a foot lower than the boys, even with Billy Greenfield and Carolyn Mayfield at only 105 pounds each.

THE THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

The boy who graduates from high school will average to earn $33,000 more—during his life time—than the one who has elementary school training.

Eagles And Eaglettes To Attend Dimmitt Tourney

The Eagles and Eaglettes will attend a basketball tournament at Dimmitt Friday and Saturday. Their oppinents for the first games are not yet known; but as some strong teams will be there, there is no doubt but that the competition will be tough. The Eagles won their first game and are ready to go. They won the tournament at Dimmitt last year and are going to do their best to repeat.

The Eaglettes did not attend the tournament last year, but they are are going this year with only one purpose in mind, and that is to win the tournament. They have played several pre-season games showing great improvement. All the girls need now is a chance to show that they can win.

The Eagles placed three men on the all-tournament team last year. One of them, Ray Ford Rusk, is going back this year to try to do the same thing. The Eagles have drilled extensively all this week in shooting long shots and free shots. The passing and fast breaking of the team has improved daily; and if the team develops an eye for the basket, they will be able to score on anyone.

The boys who will probably make the trip are Ray Ford Rusk, Melvin Calliham, C. L. Drummond, Eston Breitling, Jimmie Pope, John B. Pope, Jack Middleton, Mabry Vandergriff, D. A. Butler, Forest Hill, and J. D. Breitling.

Neither Coach Morris nor Coach Brown will announce a starting line up because of the keen competition on both squads. The boys have more competition for the team than there has been in Canyon High School in many years. The girls also have a wealth of material to choose from.

Eagles Win Over Hartley Tigers; Eaglettes Lose

The Canyon Eagles, boys' basketball team won over Hartley Friday night, 27 to 10. The girls lost a thrill-packed tussle 23 to 17 in one of the best girls' games played in Hartley.

The Eagles took the lead early in the first quarter and increased it steadily as the game progressed. Ray Ford Rusk, Eagle center, led the scoring parade with 12 points. Melvin Calliham, forward, came next with 5 points.

The Eagles were playing their first game with only two weeks of practice behind them; so the game showed many rough spots in teamwork and passing. Numerous fouls were called on both teams, also several double fouls.

The starting lineup for the Eagles was as follows: Jimmie Pope and C. L. Drummond, guards; Melvin Calliham and Eston Breitling, forwards; and Ray Ford Rusk, center. Rusk captained the team.

The Eaglettes' sextette turned in its best performance of the year to go down in defeat to a highly-touted Hartley team. The game was a thrill-packed performance in which the lead see-sawed back and forth throughout the first half. The Hartley girls came back the second half to grab the lead and hold it for the rest of the game. However, the Eaglettes rallied spiritedly to come up close to the Hartley lead; but Hartley scored a couple of baskets and the game ended with Canyon in the hole six points. The spirited work of Mary Collins at forward, and Wanda Brock at guard, was largely responsible for the fine game turned in by the Eaglettes. Edrie McNeil and Rena Beth Bellah, both forwards, also turned in excellent games.

The starting lineup for the Eaglettes included Wanda Brock, Mavis Harden, Natalie Flesher, guards, and Captain Mary Collins, Edrie McNeil, and Rena Beth Bellah, forwards. Kate Eileen Donnell, regular guard, and Dell Bagley, substitute guard, were both sick and unable to play, otherwise the outcome of the game might have been different.

W. T. BAND ENTERTAINS

The West Texas State Teachers College Band, under the direction of Mr. C. E. Strain, played in assembly last Wednesday afternoon. The W. T. Band has recently played in several concerts at the Texas Centennial. This was the annual concert for the high school by the band.

The selections played were "Chicago Tribune," a march by Chambers; another march, "Rio" by Aad; an oriental number, "Golden Dragon," by King; a waltz by Crosby, "In a Rose Garden," and a march by King, "Garland Entry."

Physicians who are so puzzled over that new disease which makes its victims talk incessantly must be bachelors.

Former Students of C.H.S. Marry

Announcements have been made recently of the marriage of several ex-students of Canyon High School.

Miss Maxine Middleton and Mr. Robert Black were married last summer. Miss Middleton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. D. Middleton. She is a graduate of 1932. She belonged to the Purple Pep and several other clubs during the four years she was in high school.

Mr. Black is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Black of Canyon. He lettered in football his last two years in high school.

The recent marriage of Miss Ethel Brasuel to Mr. Vergil McGee has also been announced. Miss Brasuel was a former student of Canyon High School. She is now teaching at Mobeetie.

Mr. McGee is an engineer and is employed at Perryton.

GUESS WHO?

A funny young junior, not too fat;
Her dad is a club keeper, imagine that;
She drives a new car, freely and fast,
And if she is not loaded no one does she pass.

Answer to last week's Guess Who, Eston Breitling.

"Theres A Picture School House In My Heart"

Author Unknown

Suppose you let your imagination wander, and see what kind of a school there would be if the pupils had their way.

There would be soda pop of all descriptions in the water fountains. The freshmen would be initiated by walking up and down the aisles of the school rooms, passing out candy which would be furnished by the school board. (Those participating in athletics would have ham sandwiches.) Instead of a detention camp, the students would be forced to eat ten bars of candy for misbehavior.

In the bottom story of the building there would be two gyms, and a swimming pool which could be frozen over in five minutes for ice skating. The football boys would be furnished bicycles to ride to and from the field. No sponsors would be allowed on any basketball trips, football trips, parties, or senior trips. Dances would be held regularly in the high school gym every Saturday night from 8 o'clock until . . . ?

All desks of students would be equipped with telephones which would be used for talking during class. Everybody could chew gum, eat candy, or drink pop during school hours, except the teacher, who would be required to do all the talking. All students would be paid $1.00 a day for going to school, and if absent would get $1.00 for every day missed. All tests would be taboo, and each student would have a button on his desk that if punched would shock severely the teacher.

Teachers would be required to spend hours after school preparing spit balls for the students. Electric bean-shooters would be furnished by the school, and all students refusing to use them would be put on the electric paddle used for sissy boys only. Rotating stairs would be furnished, so that the energy of walking up staris would not be wasted. Beds would be furnished to boys like Forest Hill and Herschel Burrus, and others who stay asleep through classes.

Teachers would be required to get all outside assignments while students entertained themselves. Fountain pens furnished by the school would be made on gloves, so they would fit only one person, thus preventing their being stolen. A magazine rack that rotated be fixed so that it would rotate through every room in the building. This rack would be furnished with every magazine that is found in any drug store, with no exceptions.

Boy! Oh Boy! What an imagination! Oh, golly! If this were only true.

Utopia! I'd say, old kid!

Home Economics Club Discusses Daily Living

"Some of the deepest satisfactions in life come from the sense of accomplishment that you have, after work is well done," said Margaret Stewart, in introducing the topic of discussion, "Living Twenty-Four Hours a Day," to the Junior Homemaking Club last Thursday evening.

Marielle Oldham asked the question, "If you asked a person to help you make a decision about a problem in your life, and he "flipped a penny" to decide what you should do, would you be satisfied?" And yet, many times, interests that require careful thought are left to chance. In concluding her discussion on sports, Polly Cluck said, "If Canyon High School girls had some sports in which to participate at noon, they would not stand idle in the halls so much." Annie Mae Spencer told about "Some Things You Do That You Don't Realize You Are Doing."

"You know, it is to your advantage to be courteous to your superiors. But if you will consider carefully, everyone is superior to you in some way, and so deserves your consideration at all times," said Beulah Brasuel in concluding a discussion.

A business meeting was held after the discussions. The club decided to continue meeting at noon. Members were assigned ingredients to bring for the fruit cake that is to be given away by the club on December 19.

Refreshments of cocoa, sandwiches and miniature Christmas stockings were served by Mildred Shuman, Marielle Oldham, Evelyn Cluck, Annie Mae Spencer, Beulah Brasuel, Margaret Stewart, and Edrie McNeil.

The Bulldog Barks Again

The Bulldog barks again. He barked all through football season; and now that basketball season has started, he still barks.

His barking helped bring the old Eagle gridsters through to the end of a successful season of pigskin battles. Now, on the basketball floor, he is forever barking during practice.

Did you know that a quarterback barks signals as the brains of the football eleven? Or that the signal caller in basketball barks out the plays to be run? Did you know that C. L. (Bulldog) Drummond was quarterback and is signal caller for the basketball practice.

Assembly Programs Planned by Clubs

Assembly programs have been planned for each assembly period. The Student Council and the assembly committee, with the help of other clubs and organizations, have been working on the program for the year.

The following are the programs that have been arranged for a few weeks in advance:

Monday, December 7, Mr. I. B. Carruth had charge of a miscellaneous program.

Wednesday, December 9, trophy presentations.

Monday, December 14, Mr. Travis Shaw, from the college, will show the student body some pictures.

Wednesday, December 16, the Spanish club is giving a Christmas program.

Miss Jordan's English class, Monday, December 21, will give some plays from the writings of Shakespeare. A talk on his life will also be given.

Wednesday, December 23, The Stage Crafters have charge of the assembly period.

Monday, January 4, Mr. G. W. Cox has the assembly period.

On Wednesday, January 6, the Press Club has been assigned the assembly program.

Grade Notes

The Grade School library is being re-arranged under the direction of Miss Belva Cain. Dorothy Anderson, Anna Lee Newlin, and Beulah Hamilton, grade school students, are assisting her. Books pertaining to the same subjects are being placed together and all books are being arranged alphabetically.

Eight first-grade truck children, with Mrs. T. W. Collins, supervisor, visited the bakery last Tuesday. They also studied some of the plans of business of some of the community helpers.

Dean Pace of Plainview entered grade 5-A this week.

Last Thursday Mrs. Murrell's second grade received small individual word books made for them by one of the seventh-grade English classes.

CANYON

Is a MIGHTY GOOD Place to Trade!

There are lots of good towns and some bad ones, perhaps, owing to the point of view. However, we are not knocking any town on earth—but simly BOOSTING one of them—your home town and mine—Canyon.

Co-operation among the residents of a community is what counts for most in building a town of which all may well feel proud. The men who are devoting their every effort and investing both time and money to provide a home-town market where you may come and do your buying and selling seek your co-operation.

They ask only that when you want anything which they carry that you TRY first to buy it at home. If the desired merchandise cannot be obtained in Canyon, then go elsewhere. But in fairness to yourself, your home community, and to the men who are working to make this a town in which you may be happy to reside, buy it here, if possible.

When times are good, the home-town merchants rejoice with you—and they stand by you when times are hard. They are friends who want to give you a full dollar's worth for every dollar spent with them.

"BUY IT IN CANYON"—This Holiday season is the time to give your home merchants an opportunity to serve you.

THE KING AND WALLY

As the battle rages over in England for and against the marriage of the King to Wally Simpson, some under-current issues are being developed. Prime Minister Baldwin is demanding a showdown, either that the King give up his lady love, or abdict the throne. As a matter of fact, the King and Baldwin have never agreed. The King wants to be the range boss, while the Prime Minister wishes to run the affairs of the nation as all Prime Ministers have in the past. Two hard headed men have met.

Baldwin proclaims that the reason for his opposition is the fact that Mrs. Simpson has been divorced a couple of times. As a matter of fact his source of opposition is that Mrs. Simpson is a commoner and an American. The English are great on royalty, and the rulers are paraded upon all occasions.

In the present case, the masses of common people are backing the King. They do not object to Mrs. Simpson as a commoner, and are not impressed with the idea that the King should be forced to marry a dumb dora simply because she happens to be of royal blood.

William Allen White, forceful editor of the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette seems to represent the prevailing American sentiment when he penned the following:

If he (King Edward) wanted to solidify himself in the hearts of the world he would stalk out on the front porch of Buckingham Palace with a loud speaker in his hand and say to the wide world:

"Well, as I was saying, I never did care much for this kinging job. Anyway, I got me plenty of rocks, spondulix and other quick assets and, so far as that goes, what are you going to do about it? Anyway, you are all a bunch of white-livered hyprocrites, for if I was to carry this gal on the payroll as a subrosa cutie instead of taking her in through the front door and giving her a good name, you would all wink and snicker and say, 'Oh, well, boys will be boys;' but anyway she is not that kind of a girl and I'm not that kind of a fellow. And now in closing, ladies and gentlemen, my beloved people and all sundry, you will kindly excuse me for a minute while you go to hell!"

The Social Security Act is a step in the right direction. But it should be changed to include all persons who are not otherwise protected. We refer to the small business operator in particular. The publisher of The News cannot participate because he works for himself. Statistics show that more than 90% of all persons who go into business eventually fail. The present law does not allow them to get under the protection of Social Security, unless their business is a corporation. As a result thousands and thousands of small business men will pay 2% to the government on every dollar which they pay their employees, but when the business man reaches 65 years of age he is likely to be broke with no assurance of income and without the Social Security protection. The last few years have revealed the fact that no one is financially secure. The fellow who thinks that he has a permanent source of income, either in lands, livestock, bonds, notes, etc., is likely to wake up some fine morning to find the whole outfit swept away, as millions did in October, 1929. While the law is new is a good time to make it all inclusive.

Many constitutional changes are being contemplated by members of congress. The sweeping Democratic victory of Nov. 3 is considered a command by the people to revise the constitution so that it may more nearly suit the conditions of today. No reasonable person could object to making changes which would improve the present government. Perhaps the contemplated changes are not so much the fault of the wording of the constitution as it is with the decisions which have been rendered down through the years by the courts. The person who goes in for the practice or mere study of law does not find himself confronted alone with the printed laws which are handed down by the legislature or by congress. These are the passing notions of the legislative bodies. The more or less permanent law is recorded in the multitude of decisions which have been rendered daily by the various courts. It is proposed in making the constitutional changes to set up more definite guide posts to direct the decisions of the courts in the future.

We are rather of the opinion that the great reception of President Roosevelt in South America, and his talk to the peace conference rather jarred the back teeth of Japan, Germany and Italy. The grace with which this nation has been turning the other cheek has made these nations rather impudent toward the United States. South America has the most fertile fields in the world for exploration. World events point to the fact that Japan and European nations have been looking longingly toward this territory. The Monroe Doctrine has been looked upon somewhat as a myth not intended for modern conditions. European conditions certainly should impress upon South America the necessity of the American continents standing together. The Latin American nations cannot resist the temptation of fighting among themselves, but if it should come to outside interference, they will no doubt come running to the protecting arms of Uncle Sam.

Colds are coming. Most doctors say that there is very little to be done to avoid catching them or to stop them once they are caught. Yet on the subject of colds every one of us is not only his own doctor, but also a storehouse of advice to others. Anyone who took all of this advice simultaneously would be very unhappy. He would wrap himself in an ice-cold sheet and drink a half-gallon of boiling lemonade. He would take two tablets of aspirin, two jiggers of whiskey, two ounces of castor oil and the juice of two lemons. He would cover his chest with flannel soaked in kerosene, taking care not to light a match, though (who knows) that might help also. He would swallow lots of medicines or no medicines, eat heartily or not eat at all, avoid stimulants or fall generously off the wagon. He would sit with his feet in mustard water, rising from time to time to lie in bed under eight blankets.

High pressure machinery salesmen, smooth bond promoters, and the fact the government will loan one-third of the money has lead to the establishment of many municipally owned power plants. There are now 3,000 power plants in the nation, half being municipally owned. But according to the latest survey the 1,500 municipal plants are producing only 5% of the power used in the nation. Is this another case of the small towns being city slicked?

The postoffice department asks that you mail your Christmas packages early. This request is made each and every year, yet there are many who fail to realize the importance of early mailing. It is reported that mails will be unusually heavy over the nation this year—the largest since 1929. If you have packages going to some distance, better take the advice of the postal department and get your package off early.

President Roosevelt is a keen strategist. Relief money has about played out in Washington. The relief burden is being dumped back on the states and the cities. Local authorities are putting up a terrible howl. Congress meets in January, and every congressman will go back to his post with this cry fresh in his ears. When the President asks for money to continue relief, the bill should be quickly passed.

Sam M. Braswell has returned to Clarendon as publisher of the Clarendon News, which he sold to Fred Williams in July, 1935. Mr. Braswell has published the Paducah Post for the past year. Civic leaders over the Panhandle are delighted that the Braswells have returned to Clarendon to resume the fine work which they carried on for so many years.

That Italian coupie who fainted during their wedding ceremony must have suddenly realized what they were getting into.

Madrid in War's Death Grip

Trembling under a thunderous cannonade of death that rocked even her outer suburbs, Madrid became a city of horror as the Spanish civil war turned into a conflict with international complications. Top photo was taken an instant after a rebel bomb struck in the western part of the city, setting an automobile ablaze and damaging buildings. Lower photo shows a group of Moorish soldiers ready to go into battle.

BASKETBALL SEASON FLARES IN MID-SEASON SPARKLE

Three Returning Letter-Men To Supply Nucleus

Basketball practice flared in all its mid-season sparkle as Coach Al Baggett guided seventeen hoopsters through the preliminary drills in Burton Gymnasium during the last week.

Baggett was hesitant in expressing his chances for the year, but implied a good season, if numerous sophomores come through as expected. A firm foothold will be supplied by the return of three lettermen. Captain Lawrence "Butch" Clark of Turkey will doubtlessly be a valuable cog by his ceaseless hustle and expert floor work. Clark, a senior, will be earning his third Buffalo numeral. He is the second of this lineage to hold the captainship, his brother having led the lofty 1932 cagers. Conway Butler, another Gobbler City product, snatched a starting post last year when Curtis Clement became ill. His methodical ball-handling and accurate over-head push-shot characterizes him as a matchless ball wizard. Craig Walling of Farwell began his West Texas cage career as the regular frosh center. Last year he was shifted to a guard post, and procured enough experience to bolster his chances for a starting slot this year.

Two sophomores have swiped the limelight in the week's scrimmages, Joe Hayes of Allison and Raymond Shackelford of Childress. Hayes' 5 feet 10 inches marks him as the midget of the starters, but his uncanny eye for the hoop partially makes up for this handicap. Shackelford's 115 points with last year's freshmen team impressed many sport writers as the best prospect since the days of George Ray Colvin. His six feet eight inches is enough assurance that the Buffaloes will be able to control the tip-off.

Three towering sophomores, John Willingham of Samnorwood, Lother Stephenson of Anton, and Ben Arthur of Ralls, are the question mark of the year. If this trio can top the barrier as coaches expect, then their worries will be disposed of. Each has broadcasted spurts of glamour that may carry them to the front ranks.

Others making strong bids for a place on the squad are: Squadman Oscar Hinger, of Endee, N. M.; Squadman Vernon Johnson, of Childress; "Eagle Eye" Lloyd Johnson, Turkey; William Harp, Sherman; Foster Watkins, Dumas; L. O. Speer, Tulia; Milton Neilson, Spearman; Buck Amburn, Wellington; and Melvin Cullender, Hartley.

G. H. Little Pledges Interest In Behalf of W. T. Saturday

G. H. Little, Amarillo, newly-elected member of the State Legislature from this district, pledged his interest in the welfare of West Texas State College, and his assistance in securing favorable legislation, in an assembly address before the W. T. student body and faculty at the college auditorium Saturday morning.

Introduced by Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the College, Mr. Little, recently elected for his first term in the state legislature, launched an address on the educational set-up in Texas, and emphasized the importance of proper legislation for West Texas schools and colleges.

"Members of the state legislature should often visit the educational institutions of the state," Little stated, referring to the visit Thursday of state senators and representatives to the W. T. campus. "These visitors were unanimous in their opinion that W. T. needs and should receive more aid than has been granted by the state so far," he revealed.

"Apportionment by the State Board of Education should be changed to give more benefits to West Texas school," Little averred in discussing the present educational set-up. "Other states are looking to the Texas system for ideas in the educational system," he continued. "We of the legislature must be vigilant and progressive.

"The present rule that educators may not serve on the State Board of Education is wholly wrong," Little stated, remarking that "educators are best able to administer matters of public education."

Dr. Hill expressed his appreciation in behalf of the college to Mr. Little for his pledged support closing the assembly program.

Uncle Sam's New Gold Gibraltar

A medieval-modern fortress is the government's new $600,000 gold depository at Fort Knox, Ky., shown above. Beyond the steel fence, which may be electrified, and the guardhouses, lies an open moat. Turret openings in each of the "pillbox" towers located at the four corners of the building are protected by bullet-proof glass and steel armament. The vault within, where Uncle Sam's $10,000,000,000 gold hoard will be stored, is made of steel which gives off poison gas under a torch. It can be flooded.

His Corn Rated Best of All

William N. Curry, 46-year-old Tipton, Ind., farmer shown above, got the thrill of a lifetime when at the International Livestock and Grain Exposition in Chicago, he was chosen corn king of the world for 1936. Curry won the coveted title with a sample of Reid's Yellow dent.

Members of W. T. High Grid Squad To Get Letters

Coach L. T. Barksdale, of the W. T. Demonstration School, released the names of the boys last week who saw sufficient service during the past football season to be eligible for athletic letters. The awards will be presented provided the boys are making passing grades on three-fourths of their subjects being studied. The letters will be given at the close of the first semester.

Boys eligible for letters include: Co-captain Velton Sorgee, co-captain James Butler, Millard Currie, Pete Whitman, Johnnie McBroom, Bob Money, R. J. Hurst, Avent Lair, Lawrence Hodges, Glen Alson, George Mayfield, Joe Patterson, A. G. Thornton, and J. D. Roberts.

Basketball season began in the Demonstration School last week with two lettermen from last season returning. These are Velton Sorgee, captain, and James Butler. Both play at the guard positions. Four squadmen and several outstanding transfers complete the roster for what is predicted to be one of the best quintets to represent W. T. High in several years.
